Teradata AgentBuilder with hands-on labs

This course introduces Teradata AgentBuilder, a powerful platform for building intelligent agents that can leverage enterprise data and context to deliver meaningful insights.

In the included hands-on lab, you will build a multi-agent flow for Customer Lifetime Value (CLV) analysis.

The agents will be capable of handling a wide range of queries, including data exploration, insight generation, and strategic reasoning.

You will also explore the full AgentBuilder stack — including contextual intelligence and the Teradata MCP server — to understand how components integrate.

No prior experience with agent building is required.

Objectives:

- Explore Teradata AgentBuilder through a guided lab
- Build agents for enterprise use cases
- Understand the AgentBuilder stack
